

Creating Brighter Futures: A Journey of Understanding with Calvin Helin

Monday, April 21, 2008

9:00 - 11:30 a.m.

Hotel Saskatchewan

Regina

Calvin Helin wears many hats. He is a lawyer, businessman, community leader and author. His book, Dances with Dependency, has been described as one “that may change your life!”

In his presentation, Helin frankly critiques the conventional approach to Aboriginal policy. He warns that a “demographic tsunami” is on the way and offers a message of empowerment, self-reliance and pride as a solution.

This event is being offered free of charge as part of the Aboriginal Employment Development Program partnership between the Saskatchewan School Boards Association and the Ministries of Education and First Nations and Metis Relations.

Board members and senior administrators are invited to mark their calendars and plan to attend this session. Those interested in registering for this event should contact Virginia Davidowich by calling 306-569-0750 or emailing vdavidowich@saskschoolboards.ca.
